Forest Nursery School in Derbyshire

Visit us!

Little Explorers Forest School invites you to explore their 'Outstanding' setting!

Located on the scenic 450-acre grounds of Derby College Broomfield Hall, their philosophy centres on child-led, nature-based learning. Explore their rich and diverse outdoor spaces and discover how their children enjoy enriching experiences in forests, gardens, streams, farms, and a unique indoor-outdoor learning space

Nursery manager, Kate Cox, will lead engaging discussions around our nature-based pedagogy, transformative environments, and how these approaches can be integrated into various educational settings.

There will be opportunities to explore how these environments can positively impact and elevate learning for babies, young children, and especially those with emerging or specific SEND (Special Educational Needs and Disabilities) needs.

Places are limited, so book today to avoid disappointment!
